

Super Me

By Nicholas

Which superpower would you most like to have:
invisibility, super strength, or the ability to fly?
Describe what you would do with your powers.

Sincerely, I would not want to have any superpowers because:

- If I am invisible and I don't know how to use it, I can become invisible at school or other places
- If I can fly, some hunters could try to kill me because they could confuse me with some types of birds
- If I am super strong, someone could discover me and bring me to a laboratory to do some experiments on me
- If I had the possibility to talk with the sea fish like Aqua Man, I would not be able to breath on the surface
- If I were fast like Flash, the police would give me a lot of fines
- If I were indestructible and someone tried to kill me, they would call some scientists to do some experiments on me

- If I could read people's thoughts and someone found out, they would think that I want to know their secrets and they could bring me to a laboratory again.
- If I am like Elastic Man and at school and I raise my hand, they will find my secret boom laboratory

Super Me - part 2

I don't want superpowers because I want to be a normal person with a normal life and I don't want to become a superhero or an assistant to one of them, like Robin or Kid Danger. If I have a special superpower, I will not use it for good or bad actions (just if I really want to get back at someone or help someone else).
